We are delighted to present this 2025 Ferrari Purosangue, the first four-door, four-seat car Ferrari has ever built. At its heart sits the naturally aspirated F140 IA 6.5 litre V12, producing 725 PS and driving all four wheels through an 8-speed dual-clutch transmission. No turbocharging, no downsizing, just a free-revving twelve-cylinder that pulls to its redline with a soundtrack no rival can match.

This left-hand drive example suits buyers across Europe, the Middle East, the Americas and other LHD markets, and its specification is exceptional. Finished in classic Blu Tour de France over a Nero leather cabin with Giallo stitching, seat inserts and headrest embroidery, it carries carbon fibre throughout, covering the LED steering wheel, front spoiler, rear diffuser, mirror covers and wheel arches. Gray diamond-cut forged wheels with titanium bolts, yellow brake calipers and a Scuderia Ferrari fender emblem complete the look.

Comfort and technology are equally complete, with a suspension lifter, dimmable roof, massaging and ventilated front seats, surround view cameras, a digital rear-view mirror, wireless charging, AFS headlights and a high-end audio system. A used Ferrari Purosangue for sale in this configuration is a rare find, available now for worldwide export from Japan with Elegant Import & Export handling the full shipping process.
