This 2017 Hino Profia QPG-FWIAXEG flat-body truck represents exceptional value in the heavy-duty commercial vehicle segment. Powered by the reliable A09C diesel engine with an impressive 8,860cc capacity, this truck delivers the performance and efficiency needed for demanding transport operations. The advanced dual-clutch transmission (DCT) ensures smooth gear changes and enhanced fuel economy for long-haul applications. Built for serious commercial use, this Profia features a substantial 14.8-ton carrying capacity, making it ideal for large-scale logistics, construction material transport, and industrial applications. This vehicle is in good running condition with genuine mileage records and no accident history, and comes equipped with practical features including double batteries, power steering, and power windows. Its spacious flat-body design provides versatile loading options for businesses requiring maximum cargo flexibility.
